

But still the same number of employees carry on the work. The use substitutes more than ever before and longer hours have helped to bridge over the postal rush. A petition for more help, particularly a clerk, has been filed with Washington since July but no action has yet been taken.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Miss Alice Reeder, 121 Terrace street, entertained Thursday evening at a musical evening. As well as several games were enjoyed, at which the prizes were won by the Misses Helma Birkness, Elsie Moosier, Florence Heller, Lillian Scott, and Evelyn Pierson. Miss Reeder was presented with a number of beautiful gifts.

Engagement Announced.
Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Connell of 221 Center street announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Evelyn M. Connell, to Sylvester Fox of this city. Miss Connell has been engaged at the J. B. Bostwick & Sons store for the past six years. Mr. Fox is an employee of the Northwestern railroad. The wedding will take place on April 24th.

Several ladies went down to Beloit today. They were the guests of Mrs. Charles Wild of the Hotel Triton. The evening was played in the afternoon, and a dinner served at seven o'clock. They were members of a card club.

Carl School of West Milwaukee street gave a dinner party last evening. His guests were several Beloit college friends, who belong to the fraternity, "Sigma Chi," of which he was a member. The social reunion was enjoyed by all.

Miss Ruth Kaufman of South Franklin street will hostess this evening to the M. N. club. The girls enjoy a game of bridge and a lunch served after the game.

Miss Margaret Austin gave a party on Thursday evening at her suburban home on the Milwaukee road. A supper was served and a delightful evening spent. The fortunate guests were Misses Mildred Smith, Alice Barlow, Helen Hartnett, and Austin Mackin, Malcolm Douglas, Edwin Fisher and Lewis Reed.

A get together social which included a business meeting of the board of the City Federation of Women's Clubs was held yesterday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. J. M. Smith, Milwaukee avenue. The officials of the federation, Mrs. E. A. Capelle, Miss Gertrude Cobb, Mrs. H. D. Murdoch, Mrs. William Judd, and Mrs. M. T. Connell were all present and gave reports of the various matters connected with the business of the organization. Mrs. J. J. Lowth represented the Athens club, Mrs. C. A. Sanborn the Art League, Mrs. E. H. Farnsworth the Philomathian club, Mrs. O. D. Bates the W. C. T. U., Miss Ida Harris the Congregational Twenty, Mrs. G. O. Curran the Eastern Star, and Mrs. M. T. Connell the Drama League.

A report of the membership committee, given by Mrs. Judd, showed that the organization numbered about 600 members. A report given by the seed committee, with Miss Agnes Weber as chairman, showed that they had already put up 4,500 packages of seed for the school children. There are two more schools yet to supply with packages after vacation. Miss Weber also gave a brief report of the work of the dental clinic, which she said was proceeding satisfactorily.

Mrs. T. R. Whitten gave an outline of the plans for a public dispensary for the city, which she said depended upon what the state would do to finance it. She said they were in communication with the state health officials, as to their definite appropriation for its support.

The chairman of the room committee, Mrs. Judd, reported that the new additional room for the rest room would not be available until the 15th of May, after its use was discontinued by the Victory loan committee.

The chairman of the finance committee, Mrs. Capelle, stated that it had been deemed wise to postpone work on that committee until after the Victory loan had been finished. An interesting report concerning the work of a probation officer or police woman in other cities, was read by Mrs. J. G. Rexford. Extracts from letters concerning the work, and mainly written by the chief of police in different cities (commending the services of these officials) was read by Mrs. Rexford. They were from Racine, Chicago, where 30 women are employed, from Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Fargo. Also a letter from Mr. Brennan of Beloit college, who is urging co-operation with Beloit in securing a probation officer, through the county board.

A large number of ladies representing groups were present at the meeting. They were Mrs. C. S. Alwood, Mrs. D. Sisk, Mrs. McVicar, Mrs. A. Avery, Mrs. McGee, Mrs. T. P. Burns, Mrs. George Broomhead, and Miss Mary Barker.

Plans were tentatively outlined for the annual meeting of the organization which will be some time during May, and Mrs. Helms was instructed to see if Mrs. H. S. Richards of Madison, who is president of the State Federation of Women's clubs, could be present and give an address.

It was decided to have a paid luncheon for the occasion, and Miss Ruth Jeffers was appointed to be chairman of the ticket committee. Mrs. F. H. Korst is to be chairman of the general committee of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. J. G. Bridges and Mrs. Henry Jensen.

After the meeting a social hour was enjoyed, and the hostess, assisted by Mrs. A. Matheson, Mrs. Bridges, and Miss Ruth Jeffers, served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. J. E. McVicar and Mrs. William Curless were appointed as a committee to collect records of the proceedings of the federation and prepare the main file or record for future use.

The Philomathian club will meet this evening at the Federated church.

It is the Home Missionary night. Supper will be served at 5:15. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. O. D. Capelle, and Mrs. N. A. Hedberg. In the evening the audience will have the pleasure of listening to a talk given by Mrs. R. B. Wey of Beloit.

VICTORY LOAN SIDELIGHTS

Janesville at present has no more important business than the duty of preparing to subscribe its share of the Victory loan—the last loan of the Great War.

This is not only a patriotic duty, but it is a sound and necessary business requirement. As yet we do not definitely know the size of the loan nor the rate of interest. As to amount, it is fair to assume from facts in hand, that it will not be less than five nor more than six billion dollars as a minimum. Janesville's share will be approximately $3,500,000, of which Janes-Rock county's share will be at least $1,400,000. There is a very sound reason why the rate of interest cannot be announced until just before the loan name: the effect such knowledge would have upon the money market. In view of the short term maturity the loan is sure to be attractive from an investment standpoint. The rate of interest must be announced in fact it must be subscribed between April 21 and May 7, just seventeen days. The intensive campaign will open in Janesville on April 21, but in fact it has already commenced in a far as organization work is concerned. An encouraging sign is the willingness displayed by the workers to again make the sacrifice necessary to the success of the loan. It is given out at local headquarters that the old organization will be practically intact. This means efficiency, as many campaigns have made these men and women experts in the sale of Liberty bonds. It is noticeable that there is not the least note of pessimism in this trained organization. These workers claim to know what Janesville will do when called upon. They quickly put heart in the daughter with the query, "Has Janesville ever failed in its duty?" Their faith is born of a knowledge of the sterling citizenship of this splendid city. It is our purpose under this caption to daily set forth for the next week, in a brief way, the reasons why these salesmen and women think they can sell in Janesville, $1,500,000 in Victory bonds in less than eight days.

ODD FELLOWS WILL OBSERVE CENTENNIAL HERE WITH RECEPTION

Local Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the order with a reception, musical and literary program and dance at the armory Monday evening, April 28. Stanley Joslyn, state grand warden of the lodge, will give the main address at 7 o'clock. The lodge will attend special services at the Federated church, Rev. J. A. Melrose having extended an invitation to them.

The J. O. F. is celebrating its centennial this year throughout the country. Wisconsin members are celebrating by local celebrations everywhere April 26-28. A state celebration will be held at Green Bay, June 2, 3, 4 and 5. A number of local Odd Fellows are planning to attend the state gathering.

The international celebration will be held in Baltimore in September. With but five members, the order was founded April 26, 1819. At Baltimore, the organizers being Thomas Dildy, John Duncan, Richard Rushworth, John Cheatham and John Welch.

Today it boasts a membership of over 2,500,000 persons. It is considered the strongest fraternal order in existence. Since 1850 it has spent in relief work $1,442,421. It has received $4,421,321 in contributions for 307,701 widowed families and buried 508,456 deceased members.

It maintains 55 homes for aged Odd Fellows, their widows and orphans. There are 17,698 Odd Fellow lodges, 9,953 Rebekah lodges, 3,450 encampments, and 709 cantons of uniformed patriarchs militant. It is not an insurance order.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, April 11.—A pleasing entertainment was given last evening at the high school when the Glee club under the direction of Miss Emilie Wiedenbeck, presented the "Wives and Children" an opera in two acts. The words and music are by Otis M. Carrington. The accompanist was Miss Amanda Bubblitz.

The musical numbers were as follows: Overture, opening chorus, "Yot is it," "Mother Mine," "The Spider and the Fly," "There are Others," "Dance," "Looking for a Girl," "Fishing" duet, "In Dreamland," "Wooden Shoe" and Finale, Drum Song, Trio, "I'll Never Speak to You Again," "Shame on You" Trio, "A Common Game" trio, "Poppies, Red and White," "A Man in Business," "When I was Young Like You," "Nothing to Do" Duet, Finale.

Members of the Royal Neighbors tendered Mrs. G. McCarthy a farewell last evening at their lodge rooms. The women came dressed in costume and presented some beautiful refreshments. Mrs. McCarthy expects to go to Colorado Springs where she will make her future home. The members of the Entre-Neus club met at the home of Miss Kathryn Hubbell. Refreshments were served and the evening spent in a social way.

Mrs. Will Dickson entertained the teachers Wednesday evening. The evening was spent at five hundred. Refreshments were served. Eugene, the little 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sheep, was run down by an auto near the McIntosh warehouse yesterday afternoon. He was taken to the office of Dr. Morrison where it was found that he was badly bruised but no bones were broken. The little fellow started across the street and ran from behind a wagon directly in front of the oncoming auto. The auto was traveling at a slow rate of speed otherwise he might have been seriously injured.

O. L. Olson and H. M. Raymond were Chicago business callers today. Mrs. E. S. Van der Kolk, who was here from Chicago, called yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Josephson departed for Chicago yesterday where they will make their future home.

Miss Margaret Cunningham arrived home from Downer college, Milwaukee, today, to spend her Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Cunningham, South DuSt street. Helen Lu, Mrs. Myra Randolph, Miss Janette Burch and Miss Clara Hanson are Beloit visitors today.

Edmond Rathjen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rathjen of this city, has returned from Kiskadee, Mo., where he was operated upon by Dr. George Still, osteopath, one of the foremost surgeons of the country. The operation was performed on the jaw after Eldon had been left in a serious condition by scarlet fever, a few years ago.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Pierce of South Main street and a party of friends motored to Beloit today. Mr. and Mrs. James Tiffeld, Mrs. Helen Shaver and Mrs. Elizabeth Cowles of Washington street were all Beloit visitors today.

Mrs. G. E. Bannison of South Jackson street has returned from Chicago, where she has been spending the past month with relatives.

Emmett Murphy of Beloit is in the city. He was called here by the illness of his father, William Murphy. Mrs. M. E. Murray, of Albany, has returned. She has been spending the week with relatives in this city.

Harry McKinney, a former Janesville resident, has sold his interest in the "Coke" store to Julius Miller, who has taken possession. Harry will return to Janesville to reside.

Mrs. C. V. Kerch has returned to the city after a visit of several days in Chicago.

Elections in Hungary Pass Without Incident

Budapest, April 11.—The elections in Hungary for the creation of soviet councils passed off without reported incidents, soviet organizations being formed in the country districts by means of this ballot.

The process was carried out under the coercion of the Red army, with the majority of the voters in many places not appearing to know why they were voting. Notwithstanding the desperate earnestness of the communists, outsiders now in Hungary are inclined to take the economic view of the experiment which they feel will not develop into a lasting success, although whether conditions will become worse before they grow better is a debatable question.

WHICH?
American workmen who have steady jobs at wages which enable them to live decently need not envy the workman of Budapest who, according to report, are receiving the order of the new government wages ranging from $3,300 to $5,000 a month.

One does not need to have studied economics a life-time to foresee clearly the early and complete failure of this amazing wage scale. Russian workmen, whether idle or at work, have drawn such wages now for many months. Yet how many of them during that time have starved to death? How many of them are not at the moment sick unto death of the system which assures them high wages but no bread? How many of them would not give anything they possess just to exchange their present lot for the lot of the comfortable and happy American workman?

Budapest laborers, we are told, are not only getting $75 a week, but they are looking on their jobs. They spend their days joy-riding in other men's automobiles, and their nights eating and drinking up the city's scanty reserves of food and liquor. How long will it be before both the reserves and the government's supply of money are exhausted? The government can, of course, issue more paper money, but it will be worthless outside of Hungary and will not buy food from abroad. Uncle Sam, out of the goodness of his heart, may feed these people for a time and let us thank God for that. But what they sober up, but he will not do this always. And when Uncle Sam cuts off the food supplies, what will happen?

It is extremely unfortunate for the Hungarian workmen that they have no level-headed Sam Gompers to counsel them. Gompers would tell them, if they would only listen, that they are killing the goose that is laying the golden eggs. Their whole industrial and economic fabric, that no industry can thrive or even exist under conditions such as they have set up; in short that they are now headed straight for perdition.

Bolshevism will of course, wear itself out soon in Europe. Let us hope that it does not destroy everything in its path first. And let us thank God that American labor and American labor leaders are wise enough to understand that for this country to embark on the bolshevist program could only result in their early and utter ruin.

NO SURPRISE.

American troops in Russia have protested against fighting when the United States is not at war. One company, composed mostly of Michigan boys, refused to go back to the front after a rest period. Their colonel appealed to them to continue the fight, as failure to do so would not only endanger their lives, but the lives of their comrades were menaced by the bolsheviks. They responded to the appeal as true Americans.

The announcement comes as no surprise. American soldiers are willing to fight for democracy. They have proven that in a most certain manner. They flew to the colors when Germany menaced the world and they stuck to their jobs until they were finished and the Hun was driven across the Rhine. But Americans are Americans, the world over, and their sense of justice is keen. They do not want to fight when their country is not at war. They do not wish to act as police under the command of British officers. They have been kept on the job while the peace conference thrashed out problems confronting it. They want to come home and their parents and relatives want them to come home.

It is rumored now that the peace conference have about decided that it will be better to let the bolsheviks wear themselves out so that the chaotic condition in Russia will kill itself. That appears to be a sensible position for the conference to take. Either that should be done or enough soldiers of the allies should be sent into Russia to insure safety to the troops who have been holding on in the frozen country for months. If the allies insist that troops be kept in Russia; if they are bound to carry on a war with a country that is not at war, let them go at it in a war-like manner and finish the job.

But take the American troops out of Russia as soon as they can be moved.

GROW BARLEY.

That more barley can be fed to beef cattle in Wisconsin with profit is the belief of J. G. Fuller of the college of agriculture. He says:

"The condition of the animals, their appetite and gain in live weight while fed barley for many weeks during the winter has shown that much barley can be grown and fed to advantage in this state."

"The herd of beef cattle at the Wisconsin Experiment station was fed a ration containing barley for considerable time this winter. This herd, including 8 baby heifers, made a very creditable increase in live weight as a result of being fed a grain ration composed of 80 per cent. ground barley and 20 per cent. oil meal.

The baby heifers, averaging 300 pounds in live weight, consumed for several weeks a ration of 20 pounds of corn silage, 10 to 12 pounds of barley oil meal mixture and 2 pounds of hay. During 5 weeks, the average gain of each baby beef a day was 2 1/2 pounds.

"The suckling beef calves of late calving have taken well to barley as a grain ration. Each animal consumes on the average 3 pounds of silage, 4 pounds of ground barley oil mixture and one pound of hay every day."

"The successful results obtained in feeding this herd the ration containing the barley indicate that Wisconsin can profitably increase beef production by feeding more barley."

The Nye bill which would allow cities to increase their bonding power, should be passed by the legislature. At this time when the United States government is urging every community to carry on construction, it is necessary for cities to be allowed to raise sufficient money to provide for their needs. This is especially true of Janesville, which is confronted with many projects which need immediate attention.

A few years ago a pork and bean sandwich would not cause much of a furor if mentioned in financial circles. It has, however, created a ripple since two Omaha sisters have filed suit for $120,000,000 against the Standard Oil company, Rockefeller and a number of banks, charging a conspiracy to form a combination in restraint of trade. Hall to the lowly pork and bean sandwich!

Senator Platt Whitman, Highland, has been named state insurance commissioner to succeed M. J. Cleary, who resigned to take a vice presidency with the Northwestern Mutual Life insurance company. Senator Whitman will make a good official. He has been a success in his own business of banking.

Reports to the White House bring satisfaction to those on the inside. Rumors indicate that President Wilson is "hammering ahead" and "making progress." The American public will be glad to get even this scrap of news, although they do not know what it is about.

Elli Hohenzollern is reported to have bought an estate. We wondered why the former Hun emperor was so devoted to his task of sawing wood. Wages in Holland must rank well with those paid in the United States.

Those who had planned to put in their Victory gardens this week have now turned their attention to the possibility of having to buy another ton of coal.

FREEDOM.
Women scream for freedom.
They demand the ballot.
And rightly too.
They picket the White House,
They burn out suffrage papers,
They stamp the country.
They buttonhole voters.
Which is all right, of course.
They demand freedom.
And hold parades.
They demand freedom.
And then wear skirts so tight
They can't march.
In their own parades.
They are queer critters, women.
In fact they're almost
As queer as the men.

We are pleased to note that the marriage of Mr. Waterbury and Miss Waltham is announced, though strangely not at Elgin.

Fire Truck Driver and Mrs. Butler W. Phillips, of East Wood Street, are the parents of a daughter, born Monday—Paris (Ill.) Beacon.

One of the militant suffragists who have been hanging around the White House and other presidential haunts admits that she is 80 years old, which admission makes her one of the most remarkable militant suffragists in this remarkable militant country—not her age, but the fact that she admits it.

The Oakley "Graphic" observes: "By being straight as a string, attending to his own business and being industrious and polite any man can make a lot of enemies."

Returning soldiers say they hope never to see mud again that is Brest deep.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.
Get a dozen eggs, pumpkin pie, a loaf of bread, a pound of wiener, a cash register and a box of paper napkins and start a chain of restaurants. The public has learned how to make this sort of business profitable. You can retail egg sandwiches at 20 cents each, giving you a profit of 350 per cent. By using a razor you can cut the pumpkin pie into twelve pieces and can retail the pieces at 20 cents each; thus each pie will bring you 240 cents, representing a profit of 1,000 per cent as the original pie costs you 12 cents. You can get $1 out of every loaf of bread by serving two small slices of toast at 10 cents. It is being sliced every day, and so far as the fare is concerned the public simply eats it up.

After the first of July, we trust the village of Brandywine will change its name to Sodapop or something that will sound legal.

THE STORY OF THE LONELY RICH MAN.

A rich man who had sums of gold discovered he was growing old—
Was coming to that time of life
When he must quit his scold-strife
And spend his few declining days
In restful, less-exacting ways.
But when he sat him down to rest,
He found his case no joy possessed.
The hours dragged, the days were Long,
His nights brought neither mirth
Nor sleep.

nor song.
And with the gold he'd fought to own.
He found that he must live alone.

He called a trusty servant nigh
Who often had gone forth to buy
The things for which he wished, and said:

"You long have bought my wine and bread,
And bargained here in shop and store
For all that I have hungered for.
Now I've another task for you:
Go buy for me a friend or two."

Men who will gladly cheer me, when
I am depressed, and talk with me.
Go fill this room with company."

The servant left as he was told,
And talked about his master's gold.
He tramped the streets both up and down,
Searched the far suburbs of the town.

And sought to buy a friend or two,
Who to a rich man would be true.
But all who heard him loudly jeered.
Refused his proffered coin and sneered.

And this he said, when he returned:
"For once your money has been spurned."

With all the gold you have to spend,
You cannot buy one faithful friend."

American-French relations rest upon the sound and permanent foundations of soldier-friendship. His personal regard and admiration for French and American fighting men, in the opinion of a brilliant soldier of France, Gen. Pau, who is now on the United States, and they rest more securely on this esteem than in the battlefield camaraderie, he declares, than they could upon treaty and convention.

General Pau.

Gen. Pau, a veteran of the war of 1870-71, who lost his right arm in this struggle with the Germans, was one of the beloved soldier figures of the war. He was a warm imagination of the French in the autumn of 1914 and helped them to rally for the terrible grapple ahead. Gen. Pau undertook the first successful offensive against the Germans, and went into German territory at a time when all seemed disaster. Gen. Pau's spirited incursion into Alsace helped the French to withstand the staggering losses of Belgium and Northern France.

In 1915 Gen. Pau twice headed military missions to Russia and to the Balkan states. In 1917 he had charge of the mission to Switzerland.

Miller's Antiseptic Oil, Known As

SNAKE OIL

Positively Relieves Pain in Few Minutes

Try it right now for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, sore, stiff and swollen joints, pains in the head, back and limbs, corns, bunions, etc. After one application pain usually disappears as if by magic.

A new remedy used internally and externally for Coughs, Croup, Influenza, Sore Throat, Diphtheria and Whooping Cough.

This Oil is conceded to be the most penetrating remedy known. Its prompt and immediate effect in relieving pain is due to the fact that it penetrates to the affected parts at once. It is a thick, clear, odorless oil, and it will penetrate this substance through and through in three minutes. This great oil is manufactured only by Herbison Medicine Co. Every bottle guaranteed. 50c, 60c and $1.00 a bottle at Smith Drug Co., exclusively.

A WOMAN'S BUSINESS

WHERE ONCE WAS LOVE

Janet's resignation from Roy Nicol's magazine was to take effect the first of the month. She and Walt had assumed without discussion that there was no other way out. Janet could not possibly go on working with Roy. They were a little that Nicol had not promptly accepted Janet's resignation, or even acknowledged it. But a letter in Nicol's handwriting came in the mail one morning. Without even first planning over it, although it was addressed to her, Janet sat down with Walt to read the letter with him.

"Dear Janet—I haven't answered your note of resignation because I waited till I grew up to the full manhood I had to be to answer it properly. Had I answered it right away I know I should have been emotional, or wounded, or foolish, or all in one. But I feel this is a big experience we have all gone through, and I want to benefit by it and not accordingly."

"Now that I have written here's my last thought on the matter: It seems to me needless for you to resign. Will you think it over?"

"There is the world of work, and there is the world of personal relations. Sometimes the two overlap; but they don't have to. The great majority of people who work together have little to do with one another outside of work; yet I would not work together. Why cannot we?"

"But aside the personal equation with us for a moment. You are of value to the magazine. The magazine is willing to pay you what you are worth. Why sever the relation. It is a business relation and need not be anything else. I am talking to you exactly as I talked to John Marker. The pressman who is a rabid Socialist and made a speech against all capitalists employers as the incubus on the workingman's back. It was fiery. It got into the ears of John Marker, and I would read it and fire him. He came to beat me to the separation."

"You've probably read of my speech in the papers," he said. "As I said, I don't expect you to stand for what I said. I don't want to resign."

"Will your speech make any difference in your work?" I asked.

"No!" he said, looking surprised that I did not blow him up.

"Well, without wanting to go into the painful thing, what have we gone through but an experience from which all of us should come out the bigger? And isn't the test of business our ability to keep on doing the work of the world, regardless of what the world has done to us?"

"You don't avoid the open air just because a storm once caught you? I was tempted to do that very thing myself. I was on the point of selling the magazine last week just to help me get my mind off things. But I thought better. I decided to take a trip on the other side of the ocean for a couple of months and do my forgetting there. So I am leaving in a few days."

"If you can't see your way to keeping the job indefinitely, will you at least keep it while I am away?"

"Sincerely your friend,"

"ROY NICOL"

Janet and Walt sat in silence for some moments.

"It seems to me it is true that, as Roy puts it, there's a grown-up way of treating this, and a childish way," Walt nodded assent.

"Yes, the grown-up way is the constructive way. The childish way is either negative or destructive," he nodded.

"Whatever you decide, Janet, I shall give Roy his chance to forget. I shall give him the chance to forget me missing him," answered Janet, slowly.

CAPE INSPIRED BY SPANISH MANTILLA

By ELOISE

Of course, when one mentions a wrap for spring, the cape is the only thing which comes to mind this season. There are no thoughts of coats at present. It is rather hard to style and wear, but two of the newest and most attractive models are the cavalier cape and the Spanish mantilla. The more common style is the military cape with its circular folds hanging loose from the shoulders. Navy and rook are the favored colors, with a few checks and browns. The most used trimmings are many bone buttons, yards of silk fringe and yards of silk braiding.

This very smart cape is fashioned of navy tulle after the lines of the Spanish mantilla. It combines style and warmth and makes an ideal wrap for the seashores or mountains. It is trimmed with fringe and has ends which are thrown gracefully over the shoulders. Here it is worn with a checked woolen skirt and a million toques and makes a very snappy street costume.

A DAY'S RECIPES.
Broiled Pigs Feet—Wash them thoroughly, cleanse a set of feet and then place in a deep kettle and cover with cold water. Bring to a boil and cook for five minutes. Remove and then place under cold running water. Rinse out the kettle and then return the feet into the kettle and cover with hot water. Add one onion leaf, one carrot, one onion, two cloves. Cook slowly until the feet are tender and then let cool in the liquid. The feet can be cooked overnight in the fireless cooker on the day before on the range. When ready to prepare lift two feet from the kettle and split open. Wipe. Brush with shortening and then roll, broiling nicely. Lift the balance of the feet and set in cold place for another meal. Strain the liquid and use for stock.

Cheese Jelly Salad—One-half cup grated cheese, one tablespoon gelatin, one cup whipped cream, salt and paprika to taste. Mix the cheese with the whipped cream, season to taste, add the gelatin dissolved in three-quarter cup water. This may be molded in a large mold or individual molds. When the jelly begins to harden cover with grated cheese. Serve on lettuce with a cream dressing or French dressing, to which a little grated cheese has been added.

Duchess Cream Dessert—One-half cup pearl tapioca soaked in one-half pint cold water one hour. Add one and one-half pints boiling water and cook till clear. Add juice two lemons and one and one-half cups sugar. Beat for some time with egg whip. Add whites of two eggs beaten stiff. This makes about three pints. This makes a nice dessert alone or a sauce with a slice of cake and a few peach halves.

SOME OTHER TURN IN THE LONG ROAD.

Did you ever on a rainy afternoon, as you sat by the window sewing or in front of the open fire just musing, amuse yourself by trying to create a picture of yourself as you might have been if you had taken some other turn in the long road?

If you have, have you try it some day. If the Judge Had Married Maud Muller.

Perhaps I should not use that phrase "might have been" for it carries a connotation of wistful regrets and I do not mean this. I mean only that "might have been" is a phrase which is not always sad. Some are happy, though we are apt to forget them, and those we think are sad may be really happy once for all. We know, as a rule, I dislike parodies but I can't help being amused at the version of Maud Muller in which the Judge and Maud Muller make the other decision and are pictured in their ill-mated old age, regretting the marriage quite as bitterly as in the original version. They regret it not having taken place.

"Perhaps, however," the phrase "might have been" is a better one since that merely suggests what I want to suggest—that you retrace some turn of the road which you do not regret, but which did make a vast difference in your life.

Would You Be the President's Private Secretary?

Suppose for instance, you had decided not to marry. Where would you be instead of sitting by the window setting swift stitches in a little girl's dress in the minor key in spite of me.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

Why the Young Women's Christian Association is a member of the women's joint legislative committee, which is presenting protective legislation for women, including an eight-hour day, minimum wage and transportation bills, before the state legislature will be told by Miss Louise Gilman, industrial secretary of the Y. W. C. A., in cities throughout New York state during the next two weeks.

Miss Gilman will meet members of the governing boards of local Y. W. C. A.'s as well as members of industrial girls' clubs, women's clubs or any other groups which desire to be formed in the cities. She will give a view of helping women to an intelligent understanding of them.

The Y. W. C. A. joined the Congress of Women's Trade Union League and the Woman Suffrage party to form the women's joint legislative conference in order to draw up and pass this legislation affecting working women. Eight hour day, health insurance, minimum wage and elevator and transportation bills are in line with our industrial program. It is also part of the battle for the protection of women. Eight hour day, health insurance, minimum wage and elevator and transportation bills are in line with our industrial program. It is also part of the battle for the protection of women.

HERE AND THERE
From fresco paintings of women in Creton palaces of about 2000 B. C. it is learned that women of that time pinched in their waists, wore elaborate coiffures, shoes with high heels and hats that might have come from a Parisian hat shop.

Mrs. L. M. Baldwin, an Oakland, Cal. woman, fasted thirty-five days and reduced her weight 35½ pounds. She is in perfect health and claims that she will fast again when she wishes to lose weight.

Bellevue Hospital and Bellevue Hospital Medical College of New York university will open its doors to women students next September.

Use Common sense or sticking plaster for your salt and pepper shakers and a away with corks. You'll find this much more convenient.

The Drudgery of ironing may be greatly mitigated by the use of a pad made at home and which takes the place of an ironing board. Use a piece of half-inch folded bed quilt would do 30 by 40 inches and make a canvas cover to fit it snugly. This pad can be used on the kitchen table or sink board and all of the ironing can be done on it. On this large surface pieces can be ironed much more quickly and it does away with handling an ironing board. It can be rolled up and takes very little room when out of use.

Agreement on State Marketing Bills Seen

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, April 11.—That there will be no agreement on the two marketing bills now pending before the legislature was indicated Thursday afternoon when no one appeared at the hearing before the senate committee on public welfare to discuss the measure.

Two bills with entirely different ideas have been presented to the legislature on the marketing subject. One bill supported by a special committee of the legislature asks for the creation of a market director under the state board of agriculture. This director would be appointed by the commissioner of agriculture for a term of four years. The second bill provides for a state market commission of three members, and would absorb the powers and duties now performed by the state dairy and food department, farmers' institutes and bureau of immigration.

For some time there has been a rumor that the committee would be able to get together on a compromise bill. The fact that no members of the Equity organization appeared at the hearing Thursday afternoon, gives rise to the belief that no agreement is possible and that the issue must be fought out on the floor of both houses.

When the marketing bills were called up before the senate committee on public welfare, Thursday afternoon, Senator George B. Skokmo said he had concluded that the bill did not require amendment, and that the powers were ample to cover present needs and work successfully. F. J. Klebard, representing the wholesale dealers of Milwaukee, offered two or three verbal amendments which will be accepted by the committee.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: When I was a young girl about fifteen years old, I was very active, full of life, and soon got to be very popular with them.

I am now seventeen years old and it seems that I am losing every boy I know. I am a quiet girl and never run around with the boys.

It seems that when they first know me they are just wild to be with me, but as they get to know me better I just can't keep them.

Can you tell me why it is so? I know it is not because I am not interesting.

A few months ago I got to know a young fellow about twenty-three years old and I went with him, but we never went to any dances together. It seems that he cared for me, but his mother and sister-in-law never wanted him to go with me because they wanted him to go with the older set.

A few weeks ago we were up to a ball. I did not go with him, but with my brother, and he was there with his relatives. There he met a pretty girl about twenty-four years old, a wealthier than I, and he was dancing with her the whole evening and did not dance once with me. Even his relatives seemed to like her.

Do you think he cares for me? I like him very much and I can't care for any one else. Is there any way that I can win him back?

BROKEN-HEARTED.

The following are ten commandments for those who want to be liked by a desirable class of men:

1. Don't paint or powder heavily.
2. Don't wear conspicuous clothing.
3. Don't talk and laugh loudly.
4. Don't chew gum.
5. Don't flirt.
6. Don't make yourself familiar with any and every man.
7. Don't use slang.
8. Don't talk to hear your own voice—have something interesting to say.
9. Don't giggle.
10. Don't consider yourself pretty.

Interesting and altogether charming if you lack friends.

Do you think it is necessary for a girl to be active, both mentally and physically if possible. She should read good books and current magazines, listen to the conversation of her friends, and take a lively interest in sports.

The young man who gave you up because of the opposition of his relatives, did not care for you, or for their lack of interest would have made him all the more loyal to you. Follow the above "don't commandments" and you will make yourself more attractive. Some day he may admire you so much that he will want to come back.

You are too young to think of boys much. Forget them for a while and interest yourself in girl friends.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Is there anything I can put in the water with which I water my fern to kill small white worms that are in the soil so that I need not resort to my fern at present. If there are any remedies, state what amount to use and how often.

A GERSCHBER.

Anything that would be strong enough to kill the worms would also kill the roots of the fern. Resist it, and if the worms still appear, take the fern out of the pot and wash it and have it given professional care.

THE BLOOMING PROBOSIS

The ordinary bloom that blights the beauty of the face, or the trouble-making organ is known as the probosis, a chronic disease of the skin of the nose and cheeks extending sometimes as far as the sides of the neck, associated with occasional low mean pimples and blackheads, an increased oiliness of the affected parts, and, most important, a hectic, belying pinkish, scarlet to purplish flush that brings the probosis out in strong relief, and provokes extensively in dry territory as it does in wet.

The nose looks warm. It is really cool. The blood can be pressed out under a glass, but it sneaks right back in as soon as the glass is removed. A massive congestion, then, and not a hyperemia. The color is heightened by overeating, constipation, lack of general exercise, late hours and much. Perhaps that is what makes bloom of rum blossoms so solemn.

In the second stage of rosacea little red dilated vessels are visible under the skin of nose and cheeks, and the pimples are even more obstinate, firmly, hard nodules.

In the third stage the probosis undergoes actual enlargement and becomes pedunculated, lobulated, bluish-red or violaceous, resembling a cauliflower bunch of worms—and now it assumes a new name, to add to the safety of nations, to wit: rhinophyma, meaning growing nose.

Well, what is a fellow going to do with a nose like that?

Stay on the water wagon.

Take a cake of yeast after each meal for six weeks.

Three quarts of water every day—no drunk, no bathed in.

Use no beverage to wash down partly masticated morsels of food. That is, eat when you eat and drink when you drink and do not attempt to do both at the same instant.

Everything, light in the way of clothing—corsets, collars, waists, shoes—must be carefully avoided.

Take no rest or outdoor work, in which case you may take meat once a day. (Meat includes fish and eggs.)

No smoking.

No stuffing with candy.

Indoor workers must wear lightweight woolen (or mostly woolen) underwear and stockings of similar texture and weight.

Apply to the blossom several times a day some of this lotion:

Precipitated sulphur.....10 drams
Powdered camphor.....10 grains
Powdered trisulphide.....10 grains
Lime water.....1 ounce
Rose water.....1 ounce

The diluted blood vessels are best destroyed by the electric needle in skilled hands.

CHAPTER IV.

An Extraordinary Chambermaid, a Midnight Tragedy, and a Man Who Said "Thank You."

Miss Thackeray was "turning down" his bed when he entered his room after bidding his new actor friends good night. He was staggered and somewhat abashed by the appearance of Miss Thackeray. She was by no means dressed as a chambermaid should be, nor was she as dumb. On the contrary, she confronted him in the choicest raiment that her wardrobe contained, and she was bright and cheery and exceedingly incompetent. It was her costume that shocked him. Not only was she attired in a low-necked, rose-colored evening gown, liberally bespangled with tinsel, but she wore a vast, top-heavy picture hat whose crown of black was almost wholly obscured by a gorgeous white feather that once must have adorned the king of all ostriches. She was not at all his idea of a chambermaid. He started to back out of the door with an apology for having blundered into the wrong room by mistake.

"Come right in," she said cheerily. "I'll soon be through. I suppose I should have done all this an hour ago, but I just had to write a few letters."

Man Has Miraculous Escape

"I was told by my family physician that I could not live without an operation, as my liver and gall sack were in such a condition. I set the day to go to the hospital, but then I saw the advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. Since taking it I am feeling like a two-year-old. I am sure I never could have survived an operation. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. THIN, NERVOUS FOLKS SHOULD TAKE BITRO-PHOSPHATE eminent specialists state that the best nerve food is an organic phosphate which the druggists call Bitro-Phosphate. A five grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer. The results following its use are often simply astonishing.

Women Need It to Bring Pink Glow of Health to Pale Checks and Faded Hair. Men Need It to Make Strong Vigorous Bodies and Steady Nerves.

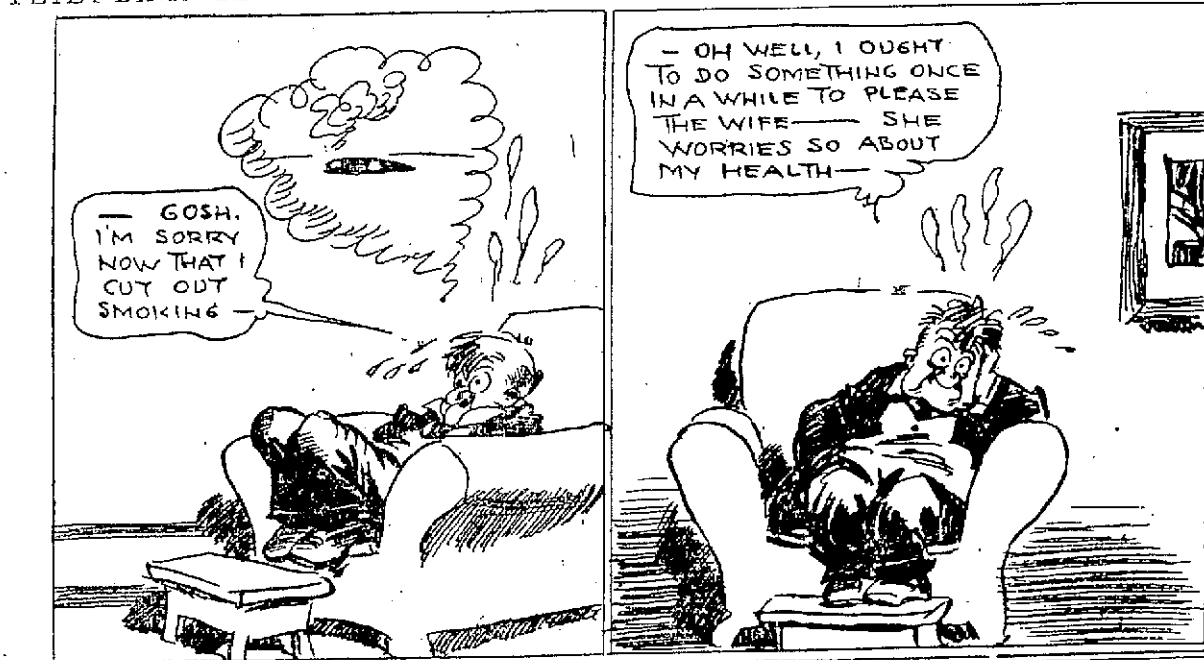

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; this conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Weak, thin people regain strength and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace depression; the gloomy, dull eyes become bright, and pale sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health. Bitro-Phosphate, the food of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. It is sold by the Smith Drug Company in Janesville, and all good druggists.

CAUTION:—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general debility, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

He bowed, still quite overcome. "You needn't be scared," she cried, observing his confusion. "This is my regular uniform. I'm starting a new style for chambermaids. Did it paralyze you to find me here?"

"I couldn't believe my eyes," she abandoned her easy, careless manner. A look of mortification came into her eyes as she straightened up and faced him. Her voice was a trifle husky when she spoke again, after a moment's pause.

blood seemed to be running ice cold as he retreated into the room and began scrambling for his clothes. The thing he feared had come to pass. Disaster had overtaken her in that wild, senseless dash up the mountain road. He was cursing half aloud as he dressed, cursing the fool who drove that machine, and who now was perhaps lying down there in the taproom. "The other one is dead as a door nail," kept running through his head—"the other one."

A dozen men were in the taproom, gathered around two tables that had been drawn together. The men about the table, on which was stretched the figure of the wounded man, were undoubtedly natives: farmers, woodsmen or employees of the tavern. At a word from Putnam Jones they opened up and allowed Barnes to advance to the side of the man.

"See if you can understand him, Mr. Barnes," said the landlord. Barnes,

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain multi-scented coconut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

A miner lodging at a certain house in the outskirts of a city in Scotland has a great fondness for music. A friend called to spend an evening with him, and after a varied program of music had been gone through he was letting his friend out at the street door, he remarked: "A-a-m thinkin' o' getting a pair o' dumb-bells. Geordie; will ye cum an' practice wi' me much for the long suffering landlady. 'Ye hev a pianer, a fiddle an' a trumpet.' She shouted down the stairs. 'No mair musical instruments comes into this house.'"

The lawyer was trying hard for his client, and was setting the points out in a logical manner. There was one thing he was not quite clear about, and he accordingly said: "Now, sir, you state that my client knocked you down, and then disappeared in the darkness. What time of night was this?"

"I can't say exactly," he answered dryly. "Your client had my watch."

PVT. FRANK FOLEY PENS OF GUARDING RHINE BRIDGEHEAD

Private Frank "Red" Foley, one of the original members of Co. M, has written an interesting letter from Montauban, Germany, to night Captain Thomas Morrissey. Private Foley briefly discusses conditions in Germany and has a humorous and interesting description of a German Policeman, together with several other matters. His letter is as follows:

Montauban, Germany,
March 22, 1919.

Friend Tom:

I received a letter from Archie Newell and he told me you asked about me so I will drop a few lines. I am in the very best of health and hope you are the same. Well, Tom, I am stationed twelve miles across the Rhine, in a town by the name of Montauban. We followed the Germans as they evacuated to this town and we have been here a little over three months. It is a pretty town built around the slope of a hill. Right on the very top of the hill, there is a big German castle, and on the very top of the castle is a flag flying. At night there is a big red, white and blue light on it and it burns all night. The flag and light can be seen for miles around. I remember some of the old German back in the States used to tell us that we would never cross the Rhine. I wish they could see us now.

We are all stationed in little cities and towns. I want you to get. We all have nice rooms to sleep in and regular beds. I hadn't slept in a bed since I left Janesville, until I got in this town. The people all treat us nice and are glad to see us. Instead of the French and the English. Of course, we ain't got the grudge against them that the French and English have.

The people all look fat and well here. Some people say we starved the Germans out, but I don't believe these people missed a meal all through the war. Or at least they don't look like it.

I wish you could see one of the positions that they have in this country. I saw one the other day and I thought he was a German General. He had a copper helmet on and carried a saber. He had gold medals on his chest. He had so many medals pinned on him that if they ever give him another one they will have to pin it on his back. I guess they give them a medal for every rest they make. Of course, they don't bother us as we got plenty of our own.

There are 3 tank divisions on this side of the Rhine. Our division, the 1st and a division of marines, and the 32nd division, that is the division from Wisconsin and Michigan, that Company M is in. It is our job to stop Fritz from crossing the Rhine in case they start trouble. We are strung out in a semi-circle around the bridges that cross the Rhine at Coblenz. Well we never gave them an inch before and we won't give them any here, either.

About three miles from here is what they call neutral land. That is the strip of land between the two lines. The Yanks are strung all along on the top of a big hill. The Germans are on a big hill about three miles away. In between is a big valley. If the Germans ever try to come across that valley, its going to be a big German grave. I was out there the other day and the Yanks have a solid line of machine guns and a line of tanks. They are in a hurry. I got that paper from Janesville with all the news of the year in it. There sure were lots of changes there since I left. And there sure were a lot of deaths back there. I met Matty Ryan the day before the armistice was signed. He sure looked fine and it felt good to meet him.

Old Co. M was sure in some bad places and they sure gave a good account of themselves over here. I was transferred to the 1st Division Motor Supply Train when I first arrived in France. Thomas Condon is in the same company with me. We have been driving trucks all through the war. We was out here to haul rations up to the lines, and then we hauled back wounded to the hospitals. And I sure saw some sights. There never was enough ambulances when they drove were going on, so we had to haul them in our three-ton trucks. Just imagine hauling men all shot to pieces for about twenty miles along roads that are all full of shell holes and at night, and we couldn't use any lights.

Is of times some of them would die on the way, and in the morning the floor of the truck would be red with blood. I hope I never have to go through anything like it again. I go through anything like it again. I came to this country. I hear that he is a Major now. One of the men in his company said he had killed 20. Well, Tom, I will have to close now as it is time for supper, but I will write again soon. Hoping this finds you in the best of health.

I remain,
Your friend,
Frank Foley.

Only yesterday, customers of ours—a popular young couple, who furnished their Home from our Store during our opening week in Janesville, came in, just to say how perfectly satisfied they are with their Home; and to tell us about the bouquets which are thrown to them by their friends, about their pretty Furniture. It would have warmed the heart of the sourest old Bachelor living to see those two young things glowing with pride in their Home and their Home possessions.

And we felt just as pleased as they were.

FUND NOW AT $65.75: PRACTICE TONIGHT

Later contributions brought the total up to $65.75.

(By K. L. EAGON.)
Janesville, timely, but consistently, came to the front yesterday—there is yet much to be done. The Janesville baseball team, which was organized last night, is now in the process of raising funds for the season. The team is now in the process of raising funds for the season. The team is now in the process of raising funds for the season.

A bill for $4 was presented yesterday for scoping and leveling the grounds at the ball park. This seems exorbitant for an hour's work with a good horse, and an investigation will be made before payment is executed. The arrangement was made promissory.

The club must have a home plate and three bases. About $175 is needed, all told. Most of the merchants thought a single dollar was enough for baseball for Janesville. Only two five dollar subscriptions were taken yesterday.

Challenge Accepted
Determined, however, to go the limit for a team, notwithstanding the reluctance of the public, the writer telegraphed to Manager Gavin of the Milwaukee All-Stars, accepting his challenge for Sunday, April 20, but expressing a preference to play in Milwaukee. The message sent to Gavin was: "I am willing to accept your challenge for Sunday, April 20, but I prefer to play in Milwaukee. I am willing to accept your challenge for Sunday, April 20, but I prefer to play in Milwaukee."

One Real Chance
This is Janesville's real, and most likely, only chance to have a baseball team. Surely there are enough real fans in town to get together and put it over.

There will be practice tonight at the fair grounds, commencing at 5:30, no matter how cold it is, and unless it rains cats and puppies.

Colored Wrestler Doesn't Want His Prowess Kiaded

The dignity of the colored wrestler who took on Young Demetral at the match here Wednesday night, was considerably ruffled by the humorous recitation of the event which appeared in the Gazette. So much so that he called personally upon the sporting editor and requested that a serious account of the contest be printed. "We're sorry if his feelings are hurt," the most serious report of the match possible is the Demmy flopped him twice, quick.

The colored gentleman should be given credit for showing true sportsmanship in expressing a willingness to go on the mat with such a capable man as Demetral. And while he lasted he put up a game battle.

Tough Bout For Demmy
Chicago, April 11.—What should prove a tough battle will take place tonight at the Haymarket when William Demetral and Jack Linow meet in their return match. Demetral is determined to wipe out the defeat of last week. Linow is positive he will gain two falls tonight. Linow says he will rough it out from the start.

Days When Janesville Had a Real Ball Team Recalled by Old Timer

(By J. D. O'HARA.)
As Janesville is about to form a ball club this season, the one thought dominant in an old timer's mind is: How will it compare with the old Mutuals, who held the boards some forty years ago, and other teams even later on?

The first club I remember was the Bowler City's, and shortly after another club composed of younger men was formed, known as the Excelsior Juniors. These clubs had many battles for the championship of the city, which finally was won by the Juniors, captained by P. L. Smith, now tax assessor of this city, and who did more, financially and otherwise, than any man in the city for the game. Other minor teams were formed later on, and the baseball fever became so warm that a number of business men decided to have a semi-professional baseball club. Frank L. Smith was, as usual, among the promoters.

Remember These?
Some of the players who composed the first club, which was named the "Mutuals," were: Frank L. Smith, Orion Sutherland, Henry Hanson, J. B. Doe, W. D. Cantillon, and Thomas Cantillon, brothers of Mike, late owner of the Milwaukee club; John Morrissey, brother of Tom, now on the police force, who was also a member. The next year it was decided to organize a professional club. A stock company was formed and a park purchased on Milwaukee avenue, just east of Fred Sheldon's residence, and the late R. J. Colvin was chosen as secretary and treasurer, and some of the best players in the country secured. A league was formed of several cities, including Oaklawn, and Milwaukee.

Ward and Bushong composed the battery for the Mutuals and a better pair never swatted a ball or donned a uniform. John M. Ward was one of the first to introduce the curve, and was out in this line. After defeating Milwaukee for the state championship and many other of the best clubs such as the Syracuse Stars, Memphis Reds, and Broadways of Chicago, the White Stockings, which had gone through the season with the best record ever made by a ball club, were, like Napoleon, looking for more worlds to conquer and were invited to conclusions with the Mutuals. Alas, that was their downfall, for it took a little country town to teach them the game, and they were home again, and a sad bunch, being defeated by a score of 5 to 3.

Ward Goes East.
The next year as a number of players had signed to play in other leagues, professional ball was abandoned. John M. Ward going to Birmingham, N. Y., and later in the season to the Providence, R. I., team, to play for the National league championship.

The next year he joined the Brooklyn club and later on became president of the "Brotherhood," a club of $10,000 a year, the highest salary paid to a baseball player up to that time. The "Brotherhood" was composed of the following players:

IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS
How would the catchers of today like to catch for Tom Morrissey, with bare hands, and without a mask, who threw a ball like greased lightning, for several hours as I have? And if he would happen to miss the board backstop fifty feet away, you'd be chasing the ball yet, gives you some idea how swift they came.

Drake Relay Carnival THIS YEAR PROMISES TO SET NEW MARKS

(By Associated Press.)
Des Moines, Iowa, April 11.—With the scattering of the war clouds, the tenth annual Drake relay carnival this year promises to resume its pre-war position as the relay classic of mid-western collegiate athletics, bidding for fame with the Pennsylvania relays, the eastern classic.

More than fifty universities, colleges and high schools will enter their star athletes, assuring the keenest competition in the meet, which will be held in the Drake stadium, Saturday, April 19. Entries include some of the greatest track men in action.

Topping the list of cinder path performers are the entries for the 100-yard dash, which will be the special event again this year. They include Carl Johnson, Michigan's star; Hadcock of Kansas; Carroll of Illinois; Sylvester of Missouri; Sol Butler of Duquesne, Pa. Seminary, Riter of Washburn, and Justice of Iowa.

Competing in the relay events will be the teams from these institutions in the university class: Chicago, Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota, Grinnell, Notre Dame, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Kansas, Nebraska, Northwestern, Purdue, Ames and Drake.

The college section, with entries incomplete, includes these schools: Washburn, Duquesne, Seminary, Hamline, Parsons, South Dakota university, Simpson, Morningside, Yankton, Coe, Grinnell and Des Moines.

In the high school division, the entries are principally from Iowa, as this is the first year out-of-state "prep" schools have been admitted. Crawfordville, Ind., and Omaha, Neb. Central high schools already have accepted invitations.

Four events in the university section and three in the college division are carded, besides the special century dash, which is open to all. Each class will compete in the half-mile, mile and two-mile relays, and the universities

Favorites In Kentucky Derby

Lexington, Ky., April 11.—(Special.)—The two pronounced favorites for the $20,000 Kentucky Derby, Internal and Billy Kelly, hold their present position in the estimation of the racing public by reason of the class shown last season in their two-year-old form. Billy Kelly is a bay gelding and was bred by Jerome H. Ross of Kentucky. He was bought as a yearling for $100 by W. F. Polson of Buffalo, in whose colors he raced during the first part of the season and was then sold to Commander J. K. L. Ross of Toronto for $25,500.

He started seventeen times, winning fourteen races, including the Idle Hour Stakes at Lexington, the Harold at Louisville, the Eastern

ROWLAND NOW HAS 20 PLAYERS IN TRAINING AT EVANSVILLE, IND.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 11.—Clarence Rowland and his partner Hugh Brennan, the owners of the Milwaukee club of the American Association, have a roster of approximately 20 players in spring training at Evansville, Ind.

President Rowland has been busy for several weeks in an attempt to gather together a winning team, and he expects to whip his athletes into shape within the next two weeks in making ready for the opening game at Louisville.

Here's Tentative List
The tentative list of players follows: Catchers—Hulm, Murphy, Egan, Plickers—Eaton, Murchison, Kozelnick, Trenton, Hess, Williams, Cook, North, Walsh, Howard.

Infielders—Barry, Smyth, Healey, Darringer, Bohne. Outfielders—Anderson, Pickup. Looking for Twister
Baseball critics believe that Rowland will obtain at least one more high class pitcher, two outfielders, and another infielder before the start of the race April 23. With Barry on the initial sack, Smyth at second, Darringer or Healey at short and Bohne at third, the infield is considered fairly complete. Anderson is looked upon as a high class outfielder and Rowland is said to have other good material in view for the outer garden.

he carried 155 pounds, the highest weight under which a two-year-old has won an important event in this country, and equalled only by the performance of Hamburg at Saratoga in his two-year-old form. Eternal is a brown colt, bred in Fayette County, Ky., by John Gorham. He is owned by Edward F. Simms, of Texas and Kentucky, J. W. McClelland of Lexington, and (senior) Oliver of Pittsburgh. The colt started in eight races winning six, including the Hopeful at Saratoga, Oakdale Handicap, and the John H. McLean Memorial at Laurel a match against Billy Kelly for $16,000 a stake with the same amount added by the association, the winnings to go to the Red Cross. As a result of this victory Eternal became known as the Red Cross horse.

BARLEY MAKES GOOD FEED FOR CHICKENS

Barley as a food for poultry has been found satisfactory by experiments at the University, experiment station farm according to advice received by County Agent H. E. Acheson from J. G. Halpin. As a part of the scratch feed and also when ground as part of the mash it can be used to advantage but should never be fed alone—it should always be combined with other grains such as corn and wheat, corn and oats, he says.

"One of the most satisfactory methods of feeding barley," states Mr. Halpin, "that has come to our attention has been feeding soaked barley for the noon feed. Barley is placed in a pail or other receptacle and boiling water added. This is usually done in the morning and the feed then covered with a sack to retain the heat and left standing until noon when the soaked barley is fed in place of a moist mash. This method of feeding has seemed to give uniformly good results."

"Barley can also be successfully used as a part of the scratch feed. I would suggest three parts of corn and one of barley, this to be fed in a deep litter of straw on the floor of the poultry house. When wheat is available wheat could be substituted for part of the corn if desired."

"Barley can also be incorporated as a part of the mash to good advantage. As a feed mash could parts of bran, middlings, ground corn, ground barley and meat scrap are suggested.

"For fattening fowls barley can undoubtedly be used to much better advantage than is usually realized."

Red Cross Receives Set of Disaster Instructions

Miss Hattie H. Alden, of the Rock County Red Cross chapter, this morning received a set of instructions for the duties of the Red Cross in any disaster emergency. The Red Cross is authorized by the government to engage in disaster relief work in the relief and prevention of suffering caused by calamities such as fire, flood, explosion, shipwreck, storm, earthquake, famine, epidemic, or other agencies of destruction.

The Red Cross is the only recognized agent for the collection of a national scale of disaster relief funds. This work comes under the civilian relief division of the organization.

Tales of the Friendly Forest

One day as Uncle Luck sat upon his cellar door, Two little ants crawled up his leg And stung him on the paw.

Now I suppose you think that's a funny way to begin a story. And I guess you think it still funnier that Uncle Luck could sit on the cellar door, but you won't when I tell you it was one of those cellar doors that cover the stone steps leading down to the cellar. It was right at the back of the house, you know, close to the kitchen porch, and dear Uncle Luck was sunning himself there, wondering what he would do with his cabbage crop.

And just then, all of a sudden, the grocery man, who was a fat white pig, drove up in his dogcart and said:

"How much do you want for your cabbages, Mr. Lucky Lefthandfoot?"

And Uncle Luck was just going to say two hundred carrot cents when these two little ants I just mentioned ran up the cellar door and stung him.

So of course Uncle Luck didn't say anything to the grocer pig, but he said something else, which I don't dare tell you, for it wasn't very polite. Well, sir, as soon as Uncle Luck had brushed off the two naughty, bad ants he turned to the grocer pig and said:

"If you'll take the cabbages up yourself I'll sell 'em for 200 carrot cents." So the grocerman pig went out to the garden, and pretty soon he had pulled up all the cabbages and put them in his cart, and after paying Uncle Luck the money, he drove away, singing this little song:

"I've the nicest grocery store in town, It's full of crackers, white and brown, And nice fat prunes and bags of flour, And a grandfather clock that strikes every hour."

And then the grocerman pig whipped up his little yellow dog, because he wanted to get back to his store before the cabbages faded.

Well, after that Uncle Luck went into the house to telephone Billy Bunny. You see, that dear old gentleman rabbit never wanted to be alone, and the person he loved to be with the most was his little rabbit nephew.

"Helloa, Central, give me 'One, two, three, you can't catch me, Brier Patch!'" And pretty soon Billy Bunny's voice came over the wire just as plain as could be:

"Helloa, is that you, Uncle Luck?" "It certainly is," replied the old gentleman rabbit. "I'm dreadfully lonely. Guess I'll come over and get you." And then he hung up the receiver and went out to the garage and hitched up the Luckymobile, and pretty soon, not so very long, he came to the Old Brier Patch, where Billy Bunny stood waiting for him.

And in the next story if the postman doesn't forget to bring me a war-saving stamp in the morning, I'll tell you of an adventure which the two little rabbits had.
